DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 – 28 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: As indicated in the previous Office Action, claims 15 – 20, 23, 24, 27, and 28 are allowed for the following reasons: The prior art does not disclose the use of an extension board for mixing and expanding tones (or tone colors or patterns) with those of a tone generator (or synthesizer). In contrast, prior art extension boards provide a separate and distinct (i.e., additional) set of tone colors. The current invention refers to adding (or expanding) color to already existing tones. All other claims (i.e., claims 1 – 14, 21, 22, 25, and 26) have been amended and now can be distinguished over the prior art for the following reasons: The prior art does not disclose the use of a music synthesizer comprising an extension board having a decision device for determining whether the performance information is to be used for generating a sound pattern having an extended element based on received performance information (i.e., whether the received performance information is to be used – or not used – when generating a prescribed sound pattern). Nor does the prior art disclose the use of a setting device for making a setting regarding the reproduction of the sound pattern based on a manual operation.

DSW
Therefore, <sup>this</sup> the Office Action indicates all claims as allowable.
